

Observed image-phenotype variation; measurement, photography and biological variation are not separated.